1. Description assignment

One of the most sensitive issues that the tourism industry faces concerns the commercial sexual exploitation of children. This occurs in less developed as well as in more developed countries involving tourists from developed 'rich' countries. The travel and tourism industry are active in preventing and reducing the commercial sexual exploitation of children by implementing the ECPAT Code of Conduct for the Protection of Children from Sexual Commercial Exploitation in Travel and Tourism.

You work for a tour operator which has signed this Code of Conduct. Providers of tourism products and services adopting the Code of Conduct commit themselves to implement the following six criteria:

1. To establish an ethical policy regarding commercial sexual exploitation of children.
2. To train the personnel in the country of origin and travel destinations.
3. To introduce a clause in contracts with suppliers, stating a common repudiation of commercial sexual exploitation of children.
4. To provide information to travellers by means of catalogues, brochures, in-flight films, ticket-slips, home pages, etc.
5. To provide information to local "key persons" at the destinations.
6. To report annually.

You are asked to work on the fourth element of the Code of Conduct by developing promotion material that brings the attention of travellers on the problem of child sex tourism. There is a budget of 1.800 euro. Conditions for the promotion material are that as many travellers as possible are reached, that it is original, that the logo of ECPAT is on the promotion material, and that the production and distribution remain within the budget.

Beside the promotion material, you also develop a distribution plan and an instruction for staff of the distributing agencies so they know what to say when they hand over the promotion material to travellers. How do you communicate such a heavy subject to people who go on a holiday?

2. Learning goals

- The student understands the problem of child sex tourism. The student knows about risk areas, destination countries, causes of the problem, the impact on children and the possible solutions.
- The student can work in a structured way by means of a Plan of Action.
- The student can write a marketing plan including a description of the promotion material to be used, target group, budget and distribution plan.

3. End Products

- Plan of Action
- Marketing plan

4. Working method

Follow a general working method. By using a fixed structure you get insight in:

- What you must do;
- What you will learn;
- Who has which responsibilities;
- Which material you need;
- Which preparations are necessary;
- How you plan to conduct the assignment;
- When you need to do something;
- When things must be finished;
- What you have to provide exactly.

You follow these five steps:

1. Objective

Formulate the goal of the assignment. This is also to verify if you understand the assignment correctly and to see what you will learn. You develop yourself further in regards of:

- Expertise;
- Skills;
- Personal characteristics.

2. Analyse

Reflect the assignment. In this stage you consider how you want to conduct the assignment. Important questions to answer are:

- What do I already know?
- Which working method is suitable?
- Which sources do I need to consult?
- How much time do I have for this assignment?

3. Planning

You make a clear division of work and a time schedule. Also incorporate scheme moments for consultation or appraisal of your work in the time schedule. The assignment is a group task. That means that you are responsible as a group for the quality of the assignment!

4. Action

Everyone knows what he or she must do and is ready to start. Tasks that need to be done:

- List all activities;
- Collect information;
- Select information and make it suitable for your assignment;
- Make adaptations on the basis of comments of co-readers;
- make the end products (lay-out, table of contents, cover, etc);
- Present the end products.

5. Evaluation

This point concerns the appraisal and the evaluation of your work. You are assessed on the process and the content. Evaluation provides the following elements:

- Appraisal of end products and group process by the teacher;
- Points for improvement.

4.1 Groups

This assignment is designed for one student.

4.2 Plan of Action

The Plan of Action contains a description of the objective of the task, a list of activities and a time schedule. It must be clear from the Plan of Action what you do, when, where and how.
